

HOUSE PASSES REVISED BILL TO CALL GUARD

Senate Slated To Accept New Version Promptly; Also Affects Reserves.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—The House today passed a bill for mobilization of national guardsmen and reserves. The bill was passed by the House today and the Senate for expected passage.

The bill accepted a report of a committee named to reconcile differences between the House and the Senate versions of the legislation. President Roosevelt requested the action by a voice vote.

The legislation would involve 100,000 guardsmen and 100,000 reserves and 50,000 enlisted men. It would permit them to be placed in the west hemisphere and possessions of the United States, including the Philippine Islands.

Needed As Teachers
The guard legislation has been passed by military men as a preliminary to any sort of program. The guard and reserves would furnish officers and men for organizing and conducting drills.

The Senate heatedly debated the program provided for by Burke Wadsworth bill throughout the session today and Dem. Leader Barkley manue-vered to a final vote by the Senate. The House committee approved the bill by a 2-1 vote on its final vote on its construction. The bill would hopefully be passed by the Senate before it would act before the House.

Save Supplies Inadequate
George C. Marshall, army chief, asserted today that the department has plenty of supplies to train all the men who could be drafted for military service under the Burke bill.

The question of equipment supplies has been raised during the debate of the draft bill and other quarters. Drafting notice of the General Marshall told his staff conference that "we have enough 30 caliber rifles for 3-4,000,000 men right now."

I make little difference for army purposes he said whether a soldier is equipped with a 30 caliber or 30 caliber rifle.
Commenting on his recent visit to troops which have been training in the four army areas the chief of staff said the men understand the basic equipment of the army and lack only such modern items as anti tank and anti aircraft guns.

Want Air Arm
Marshall said it was disclosed that the commander in chief of the United States fleet had recommended to Secretary Knox that the navy's air arm not be considered into a separate corps.

Admiral J. O. Richardson in a letter to Knox made public by the War Department said the committee cited what he called the lamentable inadequacy of the British naval force.

WAR DEMANDS BOOST U. S. EXPORTS 35 PCT.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—War demands for airplanes, steel, machinery and other vital military supplies boosted United States exports to a $3,273,000,000 in the first 10 months of the year.

The Commerce department reported today that shipments from 1939 to June 30, 1940, were larger quantities to the United States of the British empire and the far east.
In these territories overseas markets in the occupied by Germany increased by 19 percent over the 1939 figures for the period and totaled $2-3,000,000.

War products were sold in volume, foreign customers down on tobacco, fruit and other non-essentials on exports picked up in the war only to slump in the period saw the export of 60,000 worth of airplanes, all to England and France, three times the amount in the preceding months last year.
Exports of firearms and ammunition totaled $26,600,000, or more than three times as much as last

MARION REA FUND GRANTED

$37,000 To Be Used For Extensions in Wyandot and Morrow Counties.

REA officials at Washington today approved a $37,000 project for the Marion Rural Electric Cooperative Inc. clearing the way for construction of 42 miles of rural power lines to serve 128 customers in Wyandot and Morrow counties through extensions from the Marion county REA lines.

The project was approved today when the REA allocated the necessary funds to the Marion cooperative in the form of a loan. The Associated Press reported from Washington.

Most of the project work will be done in southwestern Wyandot county where more than 100 rural residents have signed for service in Jackson, Millin and Marseilles townships. The area to be served lies south of Kirby and north of Marseilles and will be tied in with existing Marion REA lines west of Brownstown.

Kenneth Kinsler, manager of the Marion REA cooperative pointed out that Wyandot county does not have its own cooperative but is served by the Crawford county cooperative which has headquarters in Attica.

Morrow County Area
The Morrow county phase of the new project will affect some 15 farm residents in Cardington township just west of Cardington.
This area is closer to the Marion cooperative lines than the lines of the Morrow county cooperative. Mr. Kinsler explained.

Application for the project approved today was filed last May Mr. Kinsler said. He added that other proposals that would extend lines to 20 more Wyandot county residents and a few in Crawford county also are pending.

Today's developments cleared the way for advertising for bids

City hospital are asking housewives of Marion and vicinity to contribute jelly for use at the hospital.

Although Friday has been designated as "jelly day" contributions of jams, preserves ceived at any time. Mrs. Robert

STALIN'S HAND SEEN BEHIND TROTSKY DEATH

Soviet Oppu Also Blamed for Ax Slaying of Exiled Bolshevist.

By The Associated Press
MEXICO CITY, Aug. 22—Police Commander Jesus Galindo said today the pickaxe assassination of Leon Trotsky has the appearance of an international plot. He did not elaborate.

Trotsky's death last night in police hospital. The former Russian war commissar had been exiled from Russia in 1929 and a refugee in Mexico since Jan. 9, 1937.

Trotsky's brain was pierced by a pickaxe wielded by Frank Jackson, who for months posed as a great admirer of the chieftain of the Fourth International.

Jackson, beaten by guards, was taken to the same hospital where Trotsky died. Trotsky's associates, and Trotsky himself, charged Joseph Stalin head of the Soviet Union and long time political foe of Trotsky and the OGPU, Russian secret police, with responsibility for the second assault on Trotsky within three months. May 24 he escaped harm in a machine gun attack for which more than 20 Mexicans were arrested.

Confessors at Once
Jackson confessed immediately after the assault Tuesday night but police resumed their questioning.

In his first statement Jackson said he decided to kill Trotsky after being disillusioned by the Russian's recently expressed political views. Police said they would publish his latest statement, perhaps tomorrow. They added that Jackson was not a Belgian as he claimed but an American citizen formerly of New York City.

Police also detained a woman listed as Sylvia Agoloff of Brooklyn, N. Y., whom they said was Jackson's sweetheart, but whom Trotsky's associates said they thought was Jackson's wife.

She said she was unaware of any assassination plot and wept as she recalled she had introduced Jackson to Trotsky. She said she was a sister of a former secretary of the exiled Russian.

To Make Death Mask
At first the hospital said the body would be kept there overnight for an autopsy but early today—after a death mask had been made by the noted Mexican sculptor Ignacio Asensio—it was removed to the chapel of a private funeral home to lie in state.

Funeral plans were uncertain.
Some of Trotsky's aids said burial very likely would be in Mexico City but definite plans had not been made.

In New York James Cannon secretary of the Socialist workers party in the United States and mentioned by certain Trotsky followers as likely new head of the Fourth International—said
"We plan to hold the funeral here to give the working people of New York an opportunity to show their reverence for the memory of this great leader and their hatred and contempt for Stalinism."

Lenin's Favorite
Leon Trotsky was Nikolai Lenin's most powerful assistant and confidante when the Bolshevists took power in Russia.

Trotsky's U. S. Lawyer Blames Soviet
By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Aug. 22—Albert Goldman, American attorney for Leon Trotsky, asserted here that the assassin of the exiled Bolshevick leader had admitted acting as an agent of the Soviet Russian secret police.

1 DEAD, 2 HURT IN ACCIDENTS

Magnetic Springs Painter Killed; Waldo Business Man Injured.

One person was killed and two others injured in traffic mishaps in Marion and nearby counties yesterday and last night.

A Magnetic Springs man was killed when his car upset.
A Waldo businessman and a Marion county woman were injured in two different accidents one caused by an auto hitting a horse.

MAGNETIC SPRINGS MAN DIES AFTER CRASH
Charles S. Stilson, 47, of Magnetic Springs was injured fatally when the car he was driving left the highway and overturned on Route 257, eight miles west of Delaware, about 9 o'clock last night.

Two small sons escaped with minor bruises and cuts.
Officials conducting an investigation today said they had not learned the cause of the mishap but that apparently the car either skidded on loose gravel on the highway or got out of control due to a mechanical defect.

Mr. Stilson who suffered deep neck lacerations from flying glass died in a Delaware ambulance while enroute to Jane Case hospital in Delaware.

The Stilson family moved to Magnetic Springs about a month ago from Columbus and he had been painting houses in Columbus. Members of the family said that he and the boys were returning home from Columbus when the accident occurred.

Surviving are the widow Mrs.

4,000 Attend Wednesday Session of County Fair

An estimated 4,000 persons were on hand yesterday afternoon and last night for the first full day session of the Marion county fair program which will continue through tomorrow night.
The attendance compared favorably with a year ago and officials reported. It was a good Wednesday crowd. Although a report on gate receipts was not available L. B. Williams, treasurer, said paid attendance thus far has equaled last year's record for the same period.

Opening events of the harness racing program drew from 300 to 400 into the grandstand yesterday afternoon and again as many lined the home stretch fence. A slightly larger crowd witnessed the inaugural evening engagement. Trained animals of all kinds will strut their stuff and the show includes a special aerial act.

Judging which began early Wednesday continued today. Of particular interest was competition in the horse department. Lem Mapes of Marysville in charge of judging had owners show their entries at the north end of the grounds near the stables. He judged grade draft entries yesterday and this morning was inspecting the purebreds.

County Talent Show
Last night's Marion county talent program included songs, dances instrumental numbers and sketches. In presenting the program Milford Schmidt, master of ceremonies, told his audience that it was conceived by the fair board which set about to obtain leaders to direct the county's best talent.

Edward Bender of near Prospect chairman of the entertainment was assisted by his daughter, Miss Marie Bender and Mrs.
Martha Price. Mrs. Kenneth Pangborn and Oscar Kaebler
The program as presented follows:

WILLKIE MAPS STUMPING TOUR

Will Be As Extensive As Any Ever Made; Plan Frequent Stops.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Wendell Willkie, Republican presidential nominee decided today to conduct a stumping campaign which an aide called as extensive a campaign trip as has ever been made.

Willkie summoned Republican National Chairman Joseph W.
Martin to come by plane from Washington to discuss itinerary details with him and Samuel P.
Pryor, vice chairman and eastern campaign manager.

We are taking into consideration the wishes of every state, Pryor said.
Mr. Willkie wants to meet as many people as possible," he added.

We are considering an itinerary with as many stops as have ever been made in a campaign.
Pryor said that nothing definite would be determined about the dates and routes until Martin had studied tentative itineraries.

He said that it might be necessary to advance the proposed

SHELL CONVOY AT RANGE OF OVER 20 MILES

British Escape Unharmed in New Type Attack; Use Smoke Screen.

By The Associated Press
Powerful German shore batteries on the French coast firing from a range of more than 20 miles shelled a mile-long British convoy in the straits of Dover today—injecting a new sting in the Nazi proclaimed air and sea blockade of Britain.

Small merchant ships in the convoy escorted by warships, were hugging the English cliffs when a battery of four guns on the distant shore near Boulogne, suddenly opened fire.

Shells burst near the vessels, with the Nazi gunners apparently getting their range directions from a high-flying observation plane but most of the missiles fell into the sea.

British warships laid down a smoke screen to aid the escape, and the convoy passed through the strait without an apparent casualty.

Long-range German guns previously have shelled British coast towns but today's episode was believed to be the first time they had directed their fire against shipping.

Hit and Run Attacks Nazi warplanes continued the siege of England in scattered, small scale attacks while in southeast Europe Mussolini high command reported sharp new blows against British naval forces in the Mediterranean—two warships torpedoed two others "hit repeatedly by bombs."

An Italian communique said a Fascist torpedo boat sank a British submarine and a Fascist under-sea craft torpedoed a British destroyer in the eastern Mediterranean.

An enemy naval formation composed of cruisers was reached in the eastern Mediterranean by our air formations and subjected to intense bombardment," the communique said.

"Two cruisers were hit repeatedly. All our planes returned to their bases."

Egypt Strands Guard
In Cairo the war ministry disclosed that an Egyptian mobile division already had taken up positions to resist any invasion by Italian troops, who presumably would strike from Libya in the west. Large Italian troop concentrations have been reported there.

"We will not attack," the Egyptian war minister said "but if we are attacked we will fight alongside our ally Britain for the protection of our country."

Lieut. Gen. Sir Archibald P.
Wavell, commander of Britain's middle east armies, warned that Hitler thwarted by England's stout defense of her island kingdom may emulate Napoleon and turn east in search of easier success.

Bad flying weather again hampered British and German aerial punches and counter-punches.
Fleets reported three Nazi planes assaulted a British convoy off the northeast English coast, dropping salvoes of bombs without apparent success. RAF Spitfires chased the raiders out to sea.

Hawaii Site Of First Underground Hangar for U.S.

HONOLULU—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—The United States soon will have its first underground hangar. Unostentatiously the army recently acquired property some where on Oahu for the project. The property contains a natural beach runway next to a hillside which can be excavated without revealing the contemplated hangar. In other ways too the army and navy in Hawaii have kept abreast of modern underground, unobtainable developments. A $300,000 project is under way to put gasoline storage tanks underground in the Oahu area and the five outlying islands.

On Monday the intelligence department of the army and navy corps could move into a closed underground quarters hewn out of solid rock. At Lualaba, navy ammunition dump millions of dollars of ammunition is stored in underground shelters ready for instant use. Incoming battleships are adding to the store. At Red Hill just outside Honolulu a full $20,000,000 worth of ammunition is stored. Together with insuring emergency food rations in underground shelters the army has taken near steps to protect its water supply system. Speculation was already afloat that it averts shortage in time of war.

Leon Trotsky Dies After Attack

sheiks seized power in Russia in 1917 in World War days following the collapse of the Czarist regime and the bloody days thereafter.

As Lenin's right-hand man—he was the first commissar of foreign affairs and then war minister—it was generally believed that he would succeed his master upon the latter's death in 1924. But Joseph Stalin, premier of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics wrested the power from him.

They became sworn enemies. Trotsky was stripped from his offices and banished. He became a wanderer—driven from country to country—until 1937 when Mexico gave him refuge.

Below the Rio Grande this stormy petrel was almost always in trouble of some kind. He wrote voluminously called Stalin and his followers an unprincipled gang of wreckers declared the communist was doomed and charged that he was being hounded by the Russian secret police.

He was often in personal danger. Shortly after his arrival in Mexico a guard at his home was shot by unknown assailants. He was guarded after anti-Jewish disturbances in Mexico City in 1939. He had a row with Diego Rivera the famous Mexican painter in whose home he first lived in Mexico and moved to Mexico City's suburbs in a house that was described as a fortress.

Escaped in May

He narrowly escaped death on May 24, 1940 when a salvo of machine gun bullets swept through his bedroom. He and his wife were unharmed but his grand Robert Harter of New York City was kidnapped and later found dead. The police arrested twenty Mexicans but were unable to fix definite blame on any one. Trotsky asserted that Stalin instigated the plot through the Mexican Communist party.

On Aug. 20 he was savagely attacked in his home with a pickaxe by a man who posed as an admirer. The police arrested a man who called himself Jacques M. Vandenreid, a native of Iran who posed as a Belgian subject. He confessed the police said that he struck him during a violent argument. Trotsky's skull was fractured his lip and shoulders injured. An emergency operation was performed in a Mexico City hospital in an effort to save his life.

Trotsky whose real name was Lev Davidovich Bronstein was born in the Ukraine where his father was a prosperous Jewish farmer he embraced socialism when he was 17 and left home.

Two years later he was arrested in a police round up and there after was frequently in trouble with authorities. He wandered in various countries and met Lenin in Finland.

Once in New York

During the World War he was shipped from one country to another and was living in New York, writing for various papers when the Czar abdicated. He sailed for Europe where he met Lenin and others in St. Petersburg and engineered the coup that resulted in the overthrow of the Kerensky regime.

Lenin made him commissar of foreign affairs later transferring him as war minister. He revived Russia's war weary soldiery and built a powerful military machine. His army held off Japanese attacks in Siberia checked allied troops at Archangel smashed White Russian armies on the east coast and west and carried the red banner of communism to the very gates of Warsaw.

Called in those days the Napoleon of bolshevism and war lord of the soviets his name constantly was coupled with Lenin's. When the latter died in January 1924 it seemed that the mantle of power would fall gracefully upon the shoulders of the junior member of the firm, and he tried to do it. But always an individualist he had made enemies. Besides he had not formally joined the bolshevik wing until 1917 and elders of that faction henchmen of Lenin since 1903 deemed him an upstart. They rallied to Joseph Stalin, executive secretary of the communist party stripped Trotsky of his offices expelled him from the party late in 1927 and banished him and his chief political lieutenants.

The span of his rise and fall was ten years.

Propagandist in Exile

Let his was a voice which misfortune could not still. From exile in Turkey, France, Sweden, Norway and Mexico he carried on against the Stalin regime.

He denounced the Moscow trials of former associates as frame-ups and said the charges against him personally were absurd. But Mexico and the Soviet Union had severed diplomatic relations several years before and unfavorable relations were threatened by this outburst.

Fundamentally the two differed because Stalin had decided that the militant communism of Trotsky which kept a vision of world revolution as its goal was a failure tant the spread of communism could best be accomplished by erecting a strong state whose successful practice of the tenets of Lenin would convince the masses of other nations that in that system lay their salvation.

Underlying these political aspects was mutual personal hatred. Neither ever forgave his rival for aspiring to the power and prestige of Lenin and their quarrel developed to the point where Stalin sought the execution of his foe as a traitor. Trotsky according to confessions of his convicted followers made the assassination of Stalin a part of his scheme for a return to power.

In 1938 at Nikolayev he and several other youths organized a cell which grew into the South Russian Workers' Union. On July 28, 1938 young Bronstein and 65 of his associates were netted in a police round-up. For two years he was in jail at Kherson and Odessa then spent six months in the transfer prison at Moscow and in the spring of 1930 was banished to Ust Kulsik in Siberia.

Exit 'Bronstein'

In the summer of 1902 aided by a peasant who hid him in a hay stack for two days and nights he escaped and emerged as Leon Trotsky. He retained his given name Lev (meaning lion) into the French front. Leon and Trotsky with a surname gesture added the surname of his Odessa jailer to the false passport on which he travelled to the outside world. For many years he spelled the surname as the changing it to Trotsky in 1937 when he was in France because the people of that country usually render the Russian character for 's' with the letter sound.

For ten weeks he lived in a 14th story walk up flat at 1552 Vaux Avenue, The Bronx. Then the czar was overthrown and on March 27, 1917, the family sailed for Russia. The British authorities took Trotsky off the steamer at Halifax and held him in an internment camp for a month. He reached Petrograd in May, helped Lenin and the bolsheviks overthrow the Kerensky regime in October and became the Soviet Union's first commissar of foreign affairs.

Conscript Army Organized

He was chosen chairman of the bolshevik supreme war council. On July 6 he ordered all men between 19 and 40 registered for military service. Out of this conscription he built the Red Army and for five and a half years rode the top wave in Russia. Lenin's death in January 1924 found him en route to a health resort in the Crimea. Before he returned to Moscow his enemies were in the saddle.

He matched wits with Stalin but on January 19, 1925, was dismissed as war minister. Still he fought on. In October, 1926 he was ousted from the political bureau of the communist party and in November 1927, was expelled from the party. His foes said he had become just 'a man of the streets.'

With him in Mexico was Natalia Ivanovna Sedoff, who since 1903 had shared his fortunes and misfortunes and borne him two sons, Leon and Sergei Sedoff. She was the second woman in Trotsky's life. The first was Alexandra Lvovna Sokolovskaya.

When her husband escaped in 1902 he left her in Siberia with two daughters, Zinaida and Nina, whose lives ended in tragedy after their husbands had been arrested by the Stalin regime in 1928. Trotsky said in 1937 he had lost all track of his sons-in-law.

The mother of these unfortunate sisters lived for many years in Russia. As there had been no divorce, she always called herself Alexandra Bronstein.

Safety mechanism invented by a resident of Granville, O. guards a rifle of shot gun being discharged unless the weapon is held against a trigger in the normal firing position.

Blind, He Services Cars

Tells A Car By Sound Of The Motor

By The Associated Press

CORINIH, Miss.—Blind since birth, hustling 50-year-old J. A. Odie operates his own filling station here—and makes it prosper.

He stands smiling beside his pump as you drive up. The sound of your motor tells him the make of car. He walks unerringly to the gasoline tank. His sensitive ears pressed close to the tank, Odie listens to the gurgle of the gasoline as his pump measures out the number of gallons ordered. He never runs the tank over. Raised letters on the indicator tell him the amount of the bill.

The Odie station features one-stop service. If you want a tire changed, the proprietor can do that without assistance. He can test your oil, put in battery water or tinkler with a balky motor. Odie has never let his blindness prevent him from making a good living. His jobs have included such things as operating a grist mill, a cattle ranch, a garage and tuning pianos and repairing organs.

He planned his filling station himself and directed its building 18 months ago. Most tourists who stop for service never know he's blind.

FINAL PLANS MADE FOR SUNDAY THRILL SHOW

Final preparations are being made this week for Dick Rogers and his All-American motor maniacs who will appear Sunday afternoon at the Marion county fairgrounds. Rogers will lead his group of stunt men through 12 high speed automobile and motorcycle stunts and many comedy numbers.

One of the features of the afternoon's program of thrills will be a head-on collision between two burning automobiles. Stuntman Rocky Decker will drive his motorcycle up a steep ramp jump through a burning hoop and attempt to land on a narrow ramp 50 feet away.

Ward Beam originator and manager of the show, said the show will be held regardless of the weather.

Two wheeled ambulances that can carry two persons and that are narrow enough to be taken through doorways have been invented by an Englishman.

MARION'S GAS RATE CONTRACT EXPIRES

Council Committees To Meet Tonight To Study Problem.

The present rate contract between the city of Marion and the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. expired today as city officials were studying a proposal recently made by the gas company for a new five-year agreement involving small increases in rates starting in August, 1943.

Mayor Snare said the ordinance and franchise committee and the street and light and gas committee of council will meet tonight to discuss the proposal and that the committees probably will be ready to make a recommendation to council within the next few days. He said he understood the present rates will remain in effect until negotiations are completed.

The present rate has been in effect for five years. Negotiations for the new rate contract started last month when the city submitted a proposal that the present rates be continued for five years. C. E. Sechrist, manager of the gas company here, then submitted the company's proposal, calling for continuation of the present rates for three years, an increase during the fourth year and an additional increase for the fifth year.

To the People Of Marion, Ohio

The United Construction Workers Painters' Local No. 162, is a legitimate and a bona-fide labor organization, belonging to the same national body as does the local unions of the Marion Steam Shovel, Follak Steel, Alloy Cast Steel and Moores & Ross Milk.

Even though we are a part of the largest labor group in Marion and are definitely recognized as such, we have been in the past week subjected to picketing by a rival group who are trying to compel Marion establishments to use only members of their own organization.

We hold no briefs against the members of the rival organization and it will not be our policy to retaliate by picketing any store or building where their members are working. We expect to sell our labor and our organization by our reputation as master craftsmen and on our guarantee of first class work and not by threats or intimidations.

We take this opportunity to inform the public the establishments now being picketed have re-organized labor and should be regarded as such.

United Construction Workers Local 162, Marion, O.
PRESIDENT ERNEST MARTIN SECRETARY G. C. WHALEY

The Stars Say—

For Friday, Aug. 23

A day of stirring events with much of importance in both business and private life, judging by the interesting planetary operations. There is excellent promise of promotion, honors, tokens of preferment and esteem from those in high places. Also this recognition may come from some really constructive and practical efforts in launching new enterprises, betraying skill, ingenuity and originality. Initiative and aggressiveness are bound to attract supporting capital for development. There is need of precaution in dealing with large organizations or groups. Friendship of elders and females is desirable.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of great progress with substantial evidence of esteem and preferment from those in places of authority. It would be well to cultivate these for the purpose of promoting very practical and meritorious propositions, which will bear the test of sound performance. New ideas and innovations are assured welcome support from employers, superiors and working capital, but be a bit wary with unproved co-operators who may be imbued with self-interest rather than honest collaboration.

A child born on this day will be enterprising, original, skillful and have much ingenuity in untried channels. This attracting the solid support of those in prestige and financial standing. Progress and happiness are the rewards of industry and ability.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Dr. Ward Phones That Madge's Nephews Are Being Sent Home from School on the Next Train.

KATHERINE opened her lips to speak at Katie's message, then determinedly closed them again. I knew that her first impulse had been to offer to take for me the message of the headmaster of the preparatory school which Bill and Hank, Mary's brothers, were attending. Then—I knew it as well as if she had told me so in measured words—she had realized that ultimately I must face whatever was coming.

But I was conscious of her anxious eyes following me as I walked slowly to the telephone, and knew that she comprehended and shared the quaking fear that was mine. For she had been with me through the days of dread that had come to us at the close of the vacation, just before the boys were to return to school, when we had realized that Hank, alone, of the four orphaned children of Dicky's sister, Elizabeth Harrison, had inherited the secret propensity for cruelty which had shadowed her life, and those of her husband and her children. That shadow had gone beyond the grave, for though her three older children—Roderick was too young to realize his loss—mourning their father bitterly, the other three, as I well knew, watching them, had to make a pretense of grief for their mother—surely one of the most poignant tragedies which could come to children.

I had been lulled into security by the long period of happy normalcy which had followed, first in the care of their mother's sister, Harriet Brathwaite, and then in Dicky's and mine. Mary had grown up and married from the farmhouse, Roderick was being brought up with Junior as our own son, and Hank and Bill made the farmhouse their home when they were not at preparatory school.

Then had come this disquieting knowledge of Hank, a condition with which neither Dicky nor could adequately have coped without Katherine. Since it had been, through her wide knowledge of physicians, who had arranged the hurried visit of Hank to a nerve specialist, with the camouflaged excuse—to Hank—that he was nervous because of smoking too many cigarettes. We had been overjoyed at the specialist's verdict, that Hank was far from a hopeless case, that we had taken the matter in time, and that it was safe for the boy to go back to preparatory school, with his older brother Bill to keep an unobtrusive but watchful eye on him. And Hank himself, though the specialist had glossed things over to the boy, had displayed an instantaneous horror of himself during the unexpected torture scene in a movie of India that we had seen, which I had considered most salutary for him.

I realized now that I had rested too confidently upon the specialist's verdict, and upon Hank's reaction to the movie. There had been so much else upon my heart and mind that I hardly had thought of the boys since their departure for school. But now all my fears were alive again, and it cost a distinct effort to take up the receiver and say quietly, "Mrs. Graham speaking."

Breaking the News
"Good afternoon, Mrs. Graham." The carefully controlled voice of the headmaster greeted me. "This is Doctor Ward speaking. Is Mr. Graham there?"

I knew that Dicky should not take a minute from the work outside scheduled by my father, and that I knew even more than he did about Hank's problems—so I hedged.

"He is not here now, no."
"Do you expect him soon?"
"Not for another hour." I apologized my conversation with the far-fetched excuse that Dicky would not be inside the house for another hour.
"Then I must give you my message." The reluctance of a man to discuss unpleasant things with a woman was in his voice. "We must send your nephew home immediately, upon the next train, if possible. I trust you will be able to work out details of meeting them."
